The U.S. Army establish-ed a Restoration Adviso-y Board (RAB) at twin Cities Army Ammunition Plant (ICAAP) in 1996. The RAB met regularly until 2014 and at that time decided to meet on-time decided to meet on-y when there was new activity or information to provide or reports to re-view. The Army recently contacted ICAAP RAB members to see if they were still interested in padiciping in meetings and domer refo-bers' desire to no longer participate, the Army is now soliciting for new volunteers to serve as RAB members. A RAB is a stakeholder group that meets on a regular basis to discuss environmental restoration at a specific property that is either currently or was formerly owned by the Department of De-tense, but where DoD oversees the environmen-tal restoration process. RABs enable people in-trested in the environ-mental cleanup at a spe-cific location to ex-change information with representatives of regula-tory agencies, Army rep-resentatives, and the community. While any ditizen can comment on the Army's environmen-tal restoration process. RAB members will be paked to meet regular basks of the local com-process.
